

Living with HIV Naturally

The Amazing Story Of David Mullens.

In 1984, I was hospitalized for a bout of Bronchitis. During my recuperation, I had a full physical check-up and after extensive testing, to my horror, I was found to be HIV-positive. I was told that my life expectancy was approximately 10 years.

Twelve months into my battle with the disease, my health was declining and primarily due to stress, the disease started to become unmanageable. On one of my many visits to the hospital, due to pneumonia having set in, I was introduced to a doctor performing HIV clinical tests who prescribed AZ, 3TC and a placebo that dramatically changed my downward CD4 count. The trial lasted for two years, and in the last six months, the placebo was replaced with the genuine drug. It was in this 12th year of fighting HIV/Aids that I was told I had only six months to live!

At the end of the trial, because the anti-retroviral drugs were deemed to be very toxic and I was not on any medical aid scheme that would pay for these expensive medications, I decided to turn to the natural healing route of supplements.

Unfortunately, again due to stress, the virus gained the upper hand, and my status changed from HIV to Aids. My CD4 count spiraled to below 10 and my viral load was capped at 750 000 000. I doggedly remained determined to overcome my adversities, even though I suffered through ailments such as candida, diarrhea, fungus in the toenails, lesions occurring on the feet and ankles (Kaposi's sarcoma), shingles, PC pneumonia and dramatic weight loss.

It was around this time, in 1997, that I was introduced to Cellfood. All medical drugs prescribed to me had been stopped. I started taking 20 drops of Cellfood a day, which I increased to 70 and 100 drops to see if it would assist my body in halting the HIV in my body. I was immediately aware that when I started taking Cellfood that I had more energy than before, and also had enough resistance to fight off colds and flu. I no longer experienced any bad doses of flu, which many others in this high-risk group would experience, I also did not have flu injections either. By taking this valuable product and learning from its many uses both internally and externally, Cellfood gave a new meaning to my life. However, in saying that, by taking this product, one must listen to what one's body is telling one.

In 2001, I unfortunately neglected my health and my CD4 count spiraled down again. After a second bout of pneumonia in a space of three weeks, my Aids physician strongly urged me to reconsider the use of anti-retroviral treatment. Determined not to give up on life, I agreed to do so. At the same time, I consulted my personal physician, Dr Priscilla Rowan, Who insisted that I take Cellfood again, as well as intravenous hydrogen peroxide, Oxygen treatments, and other nutrients. My recovery somewhat baffled my Aids physician.

Now in 2002, I make sure I take Cellfood daily, between 40 to 100 drops, depending on my state of well-being. Cellfood has given me above all else a very clear mind. My focus and ability to concentrate for long periods can now be achieved. The effects and results I am receiving from the intake of this product are hard to explain. In a nutshell - I am living!

I have also become an active sports enthusiast, and have regained my weight. My CD4 count is approximately 230 with my viral load below the accepted standard.

I have left my profession as a logistics specialist and am now a full-time HIV/Aids consultant. In this way, I can play an important role in assisting others by educating them and making them aware of HIV/Aids.

In 1996, David was given six months to live; and now in 2003, seven years later, David is working every day as an HIV/Aids consultant and motivational speaker.

WHAT IS CELLFOOD?

Cellfood is a 21st Century highly-concentrated and super-energized liquid, which is rapidly absorbed by the body in order to start the process of cleaning, building regenerating and balancing the body as soon as you take it.

WHY TAKE CELLFOOD?

Every day we breathe in air that is polluted, we drink water and other liquids that are contaminated with hazardous waste, or contain chemicals and additives that are detrimental to us. Some of the foods that we eat are depleted of minerals; are over-refined, over cooked and have excessive fat content; and are preserved and prepared using harmful chemicals, additives and cooking processes. We also smoke, and drink alcohol excessively, and we exercise too little.

Because all of this has a detrimental impact on the quality of our lives, today we need something amazing to help us deal with our modern day stressful situation. Something that will constantly clean harmful toxins and waste from our bodies, restore cellular damage, build our bodies, strengthen our immune systems and balance us at our physical, electro-magnetic, biological and chemical levels.

WHAT RECOGNITION HAS CELLFOOD RECEIVED

In January 1978, Everett Storey applied for F.D.A. registration of "Cell Food" (also known as Deutrosulfazyme). On the Pharmaceutical Composite Form he described it as "Champagne color to Amber color with passage of time, but instead of loss in potency, there is actually a small increase each year."

International Hall of Fame: In 1997, Cellfood was unanimously voted by all the Inventor Clubs of America for the 1997 Advanced Technology Award which was presented by the International hall of Fame in Atlanta, USA. Cellfood received this prestigious award because of 1) its unique ability to produce both nascent Oxygen and Hydrogen inside the body, resulting in the simultaneous cleansing and building of body cells and tissues; and 2) its unique ability to hold 78 elements, trace minerals and minerals in liquid colloidal suspension.

HOW DOES CELLFOOD SUPPLY ME WITH OXYGEN?

Cellfood enables nascent oxygen to be generated by the splitting of water molecules in the body into atoms of nascent oxygen and hydrogen.

HOW IS CELLFOOD DIFFERENT FROM OTHER OXYGEN PRODUCTS?

Many oxygen products tend to flood the body with oxygen, often creating harmful oxygen free radicals. Cellfood is totally different, because it scavenges and bonds with dangerous oxygen free radicals, supplying the body with usable oxygen in a controlled and time-released manner, at cellular level, only where it is needed. Cellfood therefore, in no way creates free radicals.

THE IMMUNE SYSTEM

Apart from assisting with the cleansing of cells, Cellfood raises the frequencies off all organs, making them more resistant to the lower frequencies of viruses, bacteria, and parasites. In 1991, Dr Aristo Vojdani, Vice-President of Immunosciences Laboratories Incorporated, USA reported, "significant increases in T-cells with increasing dosages of Cellfood" This means that as the immune system is being progressively boosted, it makes the body more capable of dealing with micro-organisms that could be detrimental to one's health. In 2000 and 2001, the University of Pretoria conducted a double-blind clinical test, measuring 92 parameters; and showed how Cellfood improved numerous bodily systems, e.g. Oxygen intake, cardiovascular, etc.

Once again it is important to realize that Cellfood itself is not directly combating disease. Cellfood provides the body with the essential building blocks that it needs to effectively perform its required and normal functions.

Cellfood® is obtainable from health practitioners, pharmacies, health shops and private distributors, and is recognised by many medical aid schemes. Cellfood® is manufactured by Nu Science Corporation USA in an FDA licensed laboratory, and distributed by Oxygen For Life (Pty) Ltd., P.O.
